Field Day Report for Rottnest, August 2010

Having a last look at the weather and swell predictions for the weekend ahead we left home a bit early to make sure we got to Rous Head with plenty of time to spare. Arriving at the Ferry terminal Sandra and I were greeted by the happy and smiling faces of Ian Cook, Mark and Wendy Hansen, Ian Taggart, Greg Keet and Peter Osborne.

Spirits were high and all were very helpful and in no time all our gear was securely stowed away in the crates for the journey across to Rottnest Island. While waiting for our departure we had a cuppa and quickly caught up with everybody's news. However, the main discussion was the fairly high swells that were predicted for the weekend. The trip across felt very short and with only a few heavy bumps we arrived safely at Thompson's Bay in a very light rain. Soon we were all settled into our Bungalows.

Saturday morning our transport to West End was spot on time and after a quick stop at the bakery we left in anticipation to see what was waiting for us at West End.

On the way the bus driver stopped and showed us some of the cliff faces that had collapsed over the last few days. From there the swell also looked quite big and threatening.

After off loading all the gear we all disappeared to Wilsons, Tennis Court and Radar Reef. Although the swell came in high at a few times the relatively light winds made the reef very fishable from early in the afternoon.

The fishing started off slowly and most of us were harassed by Wrasse and Big Buffalo Bream. One person in particular had an ongoing battle with the Buffies and very soon Sandra was labeled the "Buffy Slayer".

As the sun was dipping in the west everybody was battle ready for the anticipated Yellowtail run. It however never happened and not one legal size Kingie was landed. The Skippy however saved the day and it was not long before there were steady streams of these silver fighters coming to rest in a waiting reef bag.

Sunday was basically an exact repeat of Saturday with another perfect day ending in a wonderful sunset. At the weigh-in some reasonable bags appeared with some Master and Grand Masters fish. Sandra Wessels took the prize for the biggest scale fish with a Skippy of 1.18 kg which she caught at Radar Reef. The biggest bag of scale fish goes to Peet Wessels with a total weight of 9.96 kg.

Monday morning saw some weary Surfcasters ready for the trip back to the main land. Too soon another fantastic Rotto experience came to an end. This is truly one of our best field day venues, always leaving one with golden memories as so many of our older members can witness.

Now is the time for the younger generation of our members to stand up and join in to preserve and secure what is truly a unique fishing venue for the generations to come.

Hope the next time I see you is with a bent rod in the hand.

Local Field Day report 14 and 15 August 2010

As our club was having its field day at Rottneest, some of us who couldn't attend this venue decided to fish locally. Unfortunately, as I had rolled my ankle the day before, any long walking or rock fishing was out of the question for me.

So, we (Marcia and I) met Allan Jones at one of our local fishing beaches on Saturday at 3pm for an afternoon/evening fish. Not long after we set up, John Curtis also joined us. The conditions looked quite good; a mild south-westerly blowing already. With a couple of rips working out to a gutter and a low tide on dusk, all we needed were some fish.

First cast - WEED. Second cast - MORE weed. By now it was obvious that it was going to be one of those fishing sessions plagued by weed, which in turn promotes general discussion. George rolled up and the optimistic look on his face soon disappeared as he watched us all dragging in the salad. The only glimmer of hope was watching AJ pick out a just size tarwhine from his weed monster.

The back-breaking work meant that after a few casts, there was a good excuse to put the rod in the rod holder and have another chat. It was during one of these chat sessions when most of us were standing around that Allan, as he was the only one in the water, locked onto a solid fish. At first he said to Marcia that he thought he had a ray on his line, but since nearly every ray finds its way onto my line, I was sure that Allan had something better.

Playing the fish proved difficult with the drift in the gutter being right to left and the surface weed drifting from left to right. Allan's skill and patience as a fisherman proved to be the undoing of the 7.68kg pink snapper in prime condition. This sparked renewed enthusiasm, with all of us immediately baiting up and getting into the water, hoping for the same. No more snapper were to be had, but George Holman landed the last fish of the evening with a nice tailor, weighing 1.1kg, gilled and gutted.

Even though the fish were scarce, it was a great night spent with friends. I am sure that we all enjoyed the excitement that comes with watching a fellow angler land the once-in-a-lifetime fish under trying conditions. I hope that the Committee considers this capture in the Most Meritorious Section of our 2010/2011 SCAC Field Day competition.

The Snapper

I headed off to the Floreat drain with usual anticipation of catching the usual small fry. I met up with Peter and Marcia Pekaar in the car park.

Walking off to the beach we stopped to check out where we were going to fish and decided that straight down was as good as anywhere. John Curtis arrived after a while. The water was not good with a lot of weed but we fished on regardless. George Holman arrived and after a quick chat set up to fish. I caught a Silver Bream (260 mm) along with a heap of weed. Around 6.30pm my line was jerking with weed sliding down the line, so I started to pull the weed in then without warning the weed came to life and started to peel the line from the reel.

A short time later the fish was in the wash. Peter Pekaar went down to pick it up for me, thinking it was mulloway with weed, then he gasped!!!! Golly gosh, it is a Snapper. It weighed in at 7.68kg at the time of capture. All there were happy for my catch.

Oversight.

In our field day report last month, we omitted the fact that Peter Osborne won the field day. Peter brought 13 fish to the weigh in, including four species, with a total weight of 6.33kg.

Peter's win deserves recognition and we apologise for not including it in our field day report last month.

August Field Day length competition

5 entrants handed in forms, all at Rottnest. 222 fish comprising of 8 species made a total of 70.81 metres. 29.91 of those metres were 71 skippy caught by 4 competitors.

Congratulations go to Sandra Wessels who put in an award winning effort wrestling with 15 Buff Bream on Radar reef which helped her with 24.96 metres totalled. As a consequence Sandra is the August length competition winner and gets a prize of a jar of delicious home grown honey.
