PRESIDENT'S REPORT 4

JUNE 1988

Quite a good roll up of members at our June meeting but a few more familiar faces wouldn't go astray. The meeting concluded with an instructional period on "Reading The Beaches" which created a good deal of interest and input. Next month we will have a look at Field Day and Club Etiquette for the benefit of newer members and as a gentle reminder for some of the old ones as well.

As I write this report one of our members in Malcolm Head, his wife Jenny and son, Michael, are winging their way on a six week trip to England to visit relatives. The club extends best wishes to them along with the hope that they have a very enjoyable trip.

Last month a group of anglers, of which I was one, visited Steep Point for the first time in a number of years. We were impressed with the cleanliness of the area and the way and the manner in which the Ranger does his job. He is polite, efficient and very environmentally conscious. Our trip started with somewhat of a "BANG" this will be explained in a latter issue with an article by Dave Maxstead.

At our last Committee Meeting I asked the question of those present as to whether they intended to continue on committee and got a response of 100%. This is very pleasing as it is only two months to the A.G.M. and indicative of the harmony with which members of the committee work. This is very beneficial to club members and they in turn can indicate their appreciation by participating and attending more club functions.

I would like to thank all trophy donors, both club and commercial, for their support for our Annual Presentation Dinner and Dance and also to compliment Lee Clifton (our social organiser) and his helpers on the success of this function. To the members who attend and made the night so great...THANK YOU. To those who didn't.....Why Not????? What about making an effort for next year and to make our social organizers job a lot easier let him know well in advance. Lee ended up having to ring nearly every club member right near his deadline, this made for a lot of work and is not necessary!

Two special awards that I had to allocate were:

"STIRRER OF THE YEAR" and "CLUBMAN OF THE YEAR"
'Stirrer of the Year' was last year's recipient....SHARON OSBORNE....What can I say? Two years in a row!!!!

'Clubman of the Year' I had to award to Eric Parker. There is not a more conscientious, diligent worker and member than Eric. He attends all field days, drycasting days, club events and is always at the fore when there is work to be done. he is my right hand man and is very much appreciated. During the year he had Life Membership bestowed upon him in recognition of his club work and attitude. He is a fine example of a true clubman to any member new or old.

See You,

CARAVAN PARK REPORT

BASIL MARSH

Club members who have stayed at Smith's beach Caravan Park in previous years will remember it as a rather untidy place overgrown with lots of tangled creepers, undergrowth, wild grass and weeds around the ablution block. Behind the office building was a large array of old vehicles and second hand building materials. Most of the tent camping area was bare of grass. A number of dogs roaming the area appeared to be permanent residents with their owners who were living in dilapidated tents or old caravans.

All that has changed now. A large amount of money has obviously been spent on a complete upgrading of the park. All rubbish and wild growth has been cleared, well tended lawn is growing everywhere. High limestone retaining walls have been built and there are special areas for children's playgrounds and fish cleaning areas. All the junk behind the office building has been replaced with a large number of double storey chalets. Dogs are not allowed in the area.

The park is now called Canal Rocks Tourist Village and Bill Utting and I took advantage of an on-site van for the weekend of the May Field Day. The van was quite good and clean.

On the weekend of the Rock and Beach Championships I unsuccessfully fished the Margaret River area and decided to stay at the Prevally Park Caravan Park. That place has not changed at all over the years. The toilet/ablution block must surely be old enough by now to be listed by the National Trust as a Heritage Building. For me, the place is the only place to stay if you are self contained and need protection from stormy weather.

FIELD DAY REPORT

VENUE: OPEN
DATE: JUNE 11TH & 12TH 1988

Well- it was wild wet and windy! A typical June field day, in other words. Despite the forecasts and the conditions, 22 anglers spread themselves from the Sorrento Marina down almost to Augusta.

Most anglers tried a bit of everything. The Reeley crowd went down to Tim's Thicket, but departed due to a lack of fish and an excess of weed. They then tried Palm Beach Jetty, this time with shoulder to shoulder anglers and no fish. Graham also tried the Swan River, but only succeeded in hooking 2 Kayaks. Ian Taggart (on the opposite bank) missed the Kayaks, but wasn't able to come up with the nice bream of the previous weekend.

Ric and Mal tried the A.S.I. groyne in very comfortable fishy conditions, hoping for a snapper. It's not clear where George and Heath went but all George had to show for his weekend was a big boil in a very vulnerable spot.

Young Clive Maxstead showed 'em all up by fishing the Hillary's Marina for a very respectable catch (3rd highest bag) of over 2 kilos. Very well done, Clive!

The rest of us headed south (as did Northern Districts). The Osbornes foolishly tried Elephant Rock, but couldn't even stand upon it, let alone fish. So they found a sheltered spot on Cosy Corner and stayed there, catching herring (small), skippy (big), a King George Whiting (eat your heart out Basil) and Buffies.

Cliftons and Cookie blazed it out at Little Injie, then gave up and went back to Yallingup Caravan Park for a nice shower and a warm night. Cookie had to put on his streaker act when someone (is that how you spell it Lee) pinched his clothes. Must have been a very cold run from showers to the Caravan Cookie!

D'Alonzo's tried everywhere! They even joined the Osborne's for awhile, but left when the fish seemed to have gone to bed. This made one of the very rare weekends when Tony's name doesn't head the list.

All in all- those that headed south had fish to weigh-in, but had to work very hard for them. Only young Clive had a bag from a local spot. It sure would have been nice to see a snapper or at least a couple of bream at the weigh-in.

BASIL MARSH- Librarian

In my research of the Surfcasting and Angling Club the first printed record I can find of the club president's annual report is in the 'Souvenir Issue' of the Reel Talk printed June 1954 when the club was known as "The Surf Casting and Angling Association of W.A." It is reprinted here in full and should prove of interest to all present members.....

WE STARTED SOMETHING

Vic Davies, President.

Almost three years ago about half a dozen rod and reel enthusiasts sat and waited for the fish to bite. As usual we were "shooting a few lines" as well and before the evening was over a club was formed.

We had amongst us an extra ordinary personality; a chap by the name of Gordon Hume. Gordon was a man of no mean ability. He did most of the spade work on the constitution for the club and in his position as secretary, was a tower of strength in our early days. He was gifted with an amazing imagination and could tell fishing tales so well that he believed them himself.

There was Dudley Brown. Dudley would take the biggest hook, line and sinker he could find and throw it so far out to sea that the bait was stale before it hit the water. To see Dudley wind his rod and 14 ounces of lead three times around his head was enough to clear the beach for miles.

Nelson Smith, who always thinks that some place four miles away is the best place to fish; Noel Knight who gets so scientific that the fish die laughing; Vic Davies, the only man who ever had to set fire to 200 yards of over-run to get it off his reel and Lloyd Dunn, who took over the secretary's job, were among the early members.

We really had some rare times and some of those warm summer nights when we fished from sunset to dawn will always be remembered.

Aussie Cycles were good enough to let us use their premises as a meeting place and one by one we managed to recruit some of the finest and most knowledgeable rod and reel exponents there are in the State; chaps like Bob Agnew, Bill Griffiths, Bill Bridger, Vern Pocklington and Felix Hollywell. I sometimes wonder if the younger members of the club appreciate how much specialized knowledge and how many years of experience are at their service in the form of the advice that veteran fishermen can give them.

We started early to organise our field day trips and some of these for various reasons, have been really memorable. There were the Rottnest trips (Blue with the tame jewfish and Lloyd with his pet groper); Mullaloo, one of the maddest shambles of lines, sharks, rays, rods, tailer, gaffs and of course, Noel, that we ever saw.

And who could forget Penguin Island. Lord Nelson (Captain Carlsen) Smith and the boys chasing rabbit for three days in a tempest and eating burnt wobbegong. The 14 mile trip by truck with Llyod driving. Noel, Reg and Vic perched on the sand hill all night.

Like all really good trips we remember these as much for the good comradeship as for the good fishing.

All the time our gear was evolving from the crudest to the most refined. Split canes replaced bamboos, geared reels and light lines instead of drum reels, star drag instead of skull drag. This is no reflection on the old gear- it caught and catches some good fish, but progress is inevitable.

Gradually new clubs were formed in other centres; Bunbury and Geraldton having thriving clubs and undoubtedly there is a great future for surfcasting in this state.

So we come to the dinner, general election of officers next month and the end of the road for most of the original committee. We have worked hard and we hope well for the club and we are seeking a rest. It is up to the ordinary members to come forward and accept nomination for office. We want new ideas and a new committee to use them. Never has a club had a more propitious moment. We can go forward to bigger and brighter club activities. With a little organisation we can have a lot of good times; but you as individuals must do it. So, be at that election and if nominated

NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

Well, what can I say? This year's Dinner Dance would have to be the best it has been my pleasure to attend. The night was marvelous, not only for Sue and myself but for my friends. I'm sure that I speak for the club when I say 'THANK-YOU LEE' for a job well done.

Basil's contribution to this month was a ripper and there should be more of it. Thanks Basil.

Sharon has given us a whole lot of information on Esperance. So next issue we will do a special for our Esperance Trip which will be upon us before we know it.

As this report goes to print our Assistant Editor, Frank Sutton is in hospital. I am sure that we extend our best wishes to him for a speedy recovery.
